PROJECT PORTFOLIO RATIONALISATION

Following a review of the project portfolio, Aruma has taken the decision to reduce the area it holds in the Eastern Goldfields with the relinquishment of the Beowulf Project and the Goddards Dam Project. This will allow Aruma to focus on core assets and allow scope to pursue new potentially value-accretive projects.

Also, as a result of the Company's assessment of its ground holding, Aruma now plans to divest the Kopai Project and the Clinker Hill Project. The Company will provide details of material progress on this divestment process as it comes to hand.

NEW PROJECT OPPORTUNITIES

In conjunction with its project rationalisation measures, Aruma is currently assessing a number of new project opportunities in Western Australia.

As recommended by UWA Professor David Groves in 2015 on the preferred project selection:

"The locations of most gold deposits are strongly controlled by first-order structures. By district-scale exploration based on proximity to these the currently declining exploration success rate can be reversed."

Aruma's assessment of project opportunities in WA is based on identifying new regional targets with demonstrated prospectivity in an area that is currently revealing new world class discoveries.

GLANDORE ROYALTY

The Glandore Leases were sold by Southern Gold Limited (ASX: SAU) as part of the Cannon Mine Sale to a private Kalgoorlie gold producer and Aruma retains its 1.25% net smelter royalty in this project.

MT DEANS JOINT VENTURE

The Mt Deans is in a joint venture with Lithium Australia NL (ASX: LIT). Under the agreement with LIT, Aruma has been reimbursed costs of $30,745 associated with securing the project and LIT has issued Aruma 1.6 million LIT shares to earn a 50% interest in the project. LIT can earn an 80% interest by keeping the tenement in good standing for 18 months from grant and issuing Aruma with a further $50,000 worth of LIT shares.

CORPORATE

The Company had a cash balance at 31 March of approximately $740,000.

The Company's expenditure commitments have been significantly reduced with the relinquishment of a number of project areas and management has undertaken a review to reduce corporate overheads to a minimum during this current period of uncertainty. Fees and salaries for all directors have been reduced by half and a number of contractors have agreed to reduced and/or deferred fees for the next six months.
